Court Studies Girard Case

Decision Unlikely Before Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court studies today the knotty legal question of whether GI William S. Girard should be tried by a Japanese civil court on a manslaughter charge.

Eight of the court's nine justices planned to be on hand for a closed conference on a Justice Department plea for a quiet reversal of a decision that Girard may be tried only by a U.S. military court. The ninth justice, William O. Douglas, left Washington before the lower court decision was handed down last Tuesday.

U.S. Dist. Judge Joseph C. McGarrahy ruled that Girard, a specialist third class from Ottawa, Ill., must not be tried by a Japanese court in the firing range death of a Japanese woman. McGarrahy held that Girard was on duty at the time of the shooting and that the soldier's constitutional rights would be violated if he were handed over to Japan for trial.

COURT observers doubt announcements of any conclusions reached by the eight justices will be made before next Monday's regular session of court.

The court had planned to quit for the summer after next Monday. If the justices vote in favor of hearing arguments by government attorneys and by counsel for Girard, a special court session may be ordered, and a final decision may not come until early July.

A "cross appeal" was filed today by Girard's attorneys contending that McGarrahy's decision did not go far enough, and that the judge should have granted a writ of habeas corpus so Girard may be returned to the United States.

Man Hit by Train Taken To Hospital

A 71-year-old man, said by police to be deaf, was hit by a switching B & O freight train at the Sycamore St. crossing at about 1:45 p. m. Friday.

He was identified as Jess Wilson, of 517 Fourth St., at Memorial Hospital, where he was being given emergency treatment. He had been a patient at the hospital last spring.

Just what happened is uncertain. Police had not completed their investigation at 2:10 p. m. However, it was said by witnesses that he was hit by a freight car as it backed toward the crossing while he was walking along the track.

It is understood that he suffered head, and possible internal, injuries, but the extent of these could not be determined immediately.

He was taken to the hospital in the Gersten ambulance.

Holiday Wreck Guess: One for Each 20 Miles

CHICAGO (AP)—Fourth of July highway smashups could litter the nation's 3,400,000 miles of streets and highways at the rate of one wrecked or damaged car each 20 miles.

The National Safety Council gave that estimate today of the number of smashups that could occur during the four-day holiday period unless extra caution is observed.

The council estimated there will be 45 million motor vehicles on the streets and highways during the period—an average of about 13 vehicles a mile if they all were on the road at the same time.

Police Hold Runaway Gypsy Youth, Teenage Sweetheart

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A young Gypsy tinsmith heads back to Chicago today to face kidnaping charges while his would-be bride waits in Juvenile Center here.

Tommie Stevens, who claims he is 17, and his 12-year-old sweetheart, Sonia Christo, were picked up here after fleeing their Gypsy tribes in Chicago Sunday.

Sitting in Juvenile Center Thursday, Tommie said the charges "are all a mistake." He said he and Sonia "just ran away for a little while in order to get our parents to agree that we can get married."

Sonia agreed.

TOMMIE told police that he and Sonia left Chicago because his father wasn't willing to pay the $3,000 "dowry." Sonia's parents are entitled to under Gypsy custom.

But Tommie's father, Wando, denied the dowry story. "I'm poor," he said upon his arrival here by plane from Chicago. "I couldn't give them my hat."

He said, however, that he favors Tommie's marriage "if that's what he wants."

The young pair traveled to Columbus in Wando's car, Tommie said, living on $44 they had between them.

When the money ran out Wednesday, Tommie wired a friend in Chicago for a $35 loan.

The friend, however, notified Sonia's parents, who in turn notified Chicago police. Columbus police picked the young pair up while they sat in a Western Union office waiting for the loan to arrive.

Prosecutor Samuel L. Devine said Sonia must wait in Juvenile Center here until Chicago police authorize her release.

Tommie has to face the kidnaping charge in Chicago. Tommie's father said that he, too, was charged with the kidnaping, and that he is free on $1,000 bond.

Sport Probe In Recess

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Celler (D-NY) said today testimony that Pacific Coast League clubs have suffered from talk of an impending major league invasion may call for "disciplinary action."

Celler said Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick should consider what steps, if any, are warranted. He deplored what he called "midseason bombast" over the proposed move west of the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants.

Celler heads a House antitrust subcommittee, which Thursday closed out the first week of its inquiry into the legal status of professional team sports.

Testimony so far has concentrated on baseball, with Frick the official spokesman for the major leagues.

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—David Stallings, a Mansfield ambulance driver, received a call Thursday afternoon to report to the scene of a traffic accident here.

The victim was Mrs. Maude Wright Watson, 58.

Keaton said the jewelry consisted of 15 pieces various diamonds and platinum rings, a diamond watch, brooches, necklaces and bracelets and two loose stones.

The coroner said he had not yet discussed the treasure with the dead woman's husband, Robert, who was seriously injured in the crash.

Ball Player Faces Suit For $250,000

NEW YORK (AP)—A $250,000 damage suit was added today to the legal troubles of Hank Bauer, New York Yankee outfielder, stemming from his visit to the Copacabana night club.

The 34-year-old athlete appeared in Felony Court on a charge by Edwin Jones, 42, a delicatessen store operator, that Bauer feloniously assaulted him in the club. Bauer has insisted he did not hit the man.

Bauer waived a hearing before Magistrate Frederick L. Strong and elected to place the case before a grand jury, which is expected to hear evidence next week with Bauer's teammates among the witnesses.

As Bauer was leaving the courthouse, Jones' attorney, Anthony Zingales served him with summons seeking $250,000 from Bauer and the Copacabana for "damages." The summons gave no particulars.

Summer Arrival Now Official

CHICAGO (AP)—Summer began officially at 11:21 a. m. (EST) with a generally seasonal weather pattern. It followed a spring which, up until its final hours, was marked by death-dealing tornadoes, thunderstorms, floods and the year's first sizzling heat wave.

An Egyptian official said the most important items in Muses' bags were covers from four jars found in the tomb.

Cairo paper reported that the expedition he heads had discovered a 150-foot-square pyramid base at Dashour and beneath it the sarcophagus of King Amenhotep, a hitherto unknown ruler of the 13th Dynasty, about 20 centuries before Christ.

Charles A. Muses, 38, of Indian Hills, Colo., was arrested at the Cairo International Airport Thursday night as local newspapers published reports of his American team discoveries.

U. S. Counsel Larry Roeder, present while police questioned Muses, said the case hinges on whether the archaeologist was guilty of criminal intent or just ignorant of the Egyptian law requiring a special license to export relics found in Egypt.

Roeder said the embassy was not planning any protest or intervention at present.

The law makes all antiquities the property of the state. Every find is carefully registered and put under control. Conviction of smuggling such relics could bring a penalty of two to three years in prison.

Hays Photos Included in Ohioana Salon

Two pictures taken by Mr. and Mrs. Delbert C. Hays of Washington C. H. will be among the 36 award-winning photographs on the theme of "Ohioans at Work," which will be on display in the second floor room of the Hays Building, 243½ E. Court St. each afternoon and evening next week.

Mrs. Frank Mayo, Fayette County chairman of the Ohioana Library Assn., said the display will be open to the public without charge from 3 to 5 p. m. and from 7 to 9 p. m., Monday through Sunday, June 30.

Members of the association will explain the pictures and the purpose for which they will be used. Mrs. Mayo said.

The pictures in the exhibit were chosen in a statewide competition which attracted more than 200 entries by some 60 of Ohio's leading professional and amateur photographers. Cash prizes amounting to $620 were awarded to the winners.

THE PHOTOGRAPHS have received favorable notices in the various cities where they have been displayed, Mrs. Mayo said.

Mrs. J. Earl Gidding, 421 W. Court St., a trustee of the association, has been assisting Mrs. Mayo in preparations for the display here next week.

The pictures will be reproduced in the Ohioana Library's engagement calendar yearbook, which will be published in September. Each picture will be accompanied by a 200-word description of the subject and a brief biographical sketch of the photographer.

In approving controls for the fifth consecutive year, farmers will limit sales to the amount grown on a 55 million acre allotment—the same that has been in effect on the last four crops.

Other crops being grown under quotas this year—and likely to be subjected to them again next year—are cotton, rice, peanuts and major types of tobacco. Surpluses exist in all of them.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)—A greater proportion of Ohio farmers than ever before voted favorably for strict marketing controls and higher support prices in Thursday's 36-state 1958 wheat crop marketing quota referendum.

Official totals showed 3,014 voting for the quotas and 2,011 voting against.

While the percentage favoring controls—60.2—was the highest in the last five years, the vote was the lightest.

Probe Chief Suggests Union Decide Action on President

WASHINGTON (P)—Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) said today the "burden" is on the Bakers Union now to say whether its president, James G. Cross, abused his office and misused funds.

The Senate Rackets Committee, headed by McClellan, Thursday completed hearings into a large and misconduct by Cross.

A Bakers Union hearing board, meanwhile, notified Cross' chief accuser, suspended union Secretary-Treasurer Curtis R. Sims, it would meet today to consider the charge that he has brought the union into disrepute with his public denunciations of Cross' conduct.

Sims, suspended March 8, said he will be surprised if the hearing board, which he contends is run by Cross, fails to make the suspension permanent.

THE SENATE committee wound up its public hearings on the Bakers Union with Cross denying Thursday that he approved "substandard" wage contracts between his union and a baking company official whose father loaned him $97,600.

"He was doing me a favor and getting nothing in return," Cross said after acknowledging the loans from Martin L. Philipsborn Sr., whose son is the labor relations chief of Zion Industries, Inc., Zion, Ill.

McClellan told newsmen: "I recommend that the union executive board study the proceedings before this committee."

"The burden is on the union now to determine what action, if any, should be taken against Mr. Cross."

The senator announced he was closing the hearings on the Bakers "for the present," thus leaving the way open for further hearings not now planned, and holding Cross under continuing subpoena.

Roaming Cat On Way Home

WASHINGTON (P)—Cracker, a tan and white cat who is the sometime house pet of the Rep. Chamberlain (R-Mich) family, returns to Washington today.

The family said the footloose feline left the Chamberlain home in nearby Arlington, Va., last January, and later turned up at Chamberlain's home in East Lansing, Mich.

Last week, Cracker was traveling in the Chamberlain station wagon on the way to Washington after a brief visit in Michigan.

The cat started roaming again, leaving the car during a stopover on the Ohio turnpike.

After arriving in Washington, Chamberlain wrote Ohio turnpike authorities and gave Cracker's description. The errant cat was located, and is being shipped back by air.

Woman Protests, She Didn't Have Hand on Wheel

CHICAGO (P)—A young lady has posed an interesting court problem—can she be accused of drunk driving if a companion was steering her weaving automobile while she operated the gas pedal?

This circumstance came out in Traffic Court Thursday when Judge Eugene L. Wachowski ordered a July 18 hearing for Miss Priscilla Bowman, 20.

She was arrested on the South Side May 23. The arresting officer's report stated: "driving vehicle with passenger steering same." The passenger was not identified.

The officer said Miss Bowman related that it's dangerous for a person who's been drinking to drive.

Bricker, Lausche Split On Russell's Proposal

WASHINGTON (P)—The Senate Thursday night defeated 45-39 a proposal by Sen. Russell (D-Ga) to send the Civil Rights bill to the Judiciary Committee. By defeating the proposal, the Senate placed the controversial bill on the calendar for full Senate consideration. Ohio's lawmakers divided over the issue. Sen. John W. Bricker, Republican, voted against Russell's proposal. Sen. Frank J. Lausche, Democrat, voted for it.

Japan Eyes More Trade With Reds

WASHINGTON (P)—Japan's outspoken Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi said emphatically today his country will never go Communist or neutralist.

But it wants increased trade with Communist China in a way that will not weaken free world security, he said.

In a speech to a National Press Club luncheon, Kishi said Japan has no intention of recognizing Communist China at present and will not take action in that direction except through the United Nations.

The 60-year-old Conservative party leader talked plainly and forcefully in Japanese, shortly after a final meeting with President Eisenhower at the White House.

The senator announced he was closing the hearings on the Bakers "for the present," thus leaving the way open for further hearings not now planned, and holding Cross under continuing subpoena.

Electric Output Peak Switches To Summer

Air Conditioners Boost Hot Weather Utility Consumption

BUSINESS MIRROR
By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Summer arrived today for an official visit only to find that in many parts of the nation she had already outworn her welcome several days ago.

The prolonged heat wave spurred business in some lines, such as sales of air conditioners and light apparel. It cut sales in others, such as food and home furnishings.

It brought slowdowns in many production lines and offices, and walkouts in a few overheated plants.

In some cities a new look was being taken today at the electric power capacity and the industry's flexibility in time of emergency. Record consumption of power taxed the utilities while heat was causing equipment breakdowns.

The big trend toward air conditioning in recent years has tended to switch the utilities peak load problems from the winter to the summer months. Edison Electric Institute reports a big jump in consumption for the nation in the last week, with the biggest increases in those sections hardest hit by the pre-summer heat wave. Power shortages were reported in both Chicago and New York.

Many of the faster growing communities are wondering today how to increase their water facilities. In some places pressure dropped toward the vanishing point under the head start on the general industry, slowdown so widely expected.

Weather should have only part of the blame for this. Weakness in a number of industries is lengthening the shutdown periods scheduled next month. In July a sizable portion of the nation's plants will close down for one to three weeks for mass vacations.

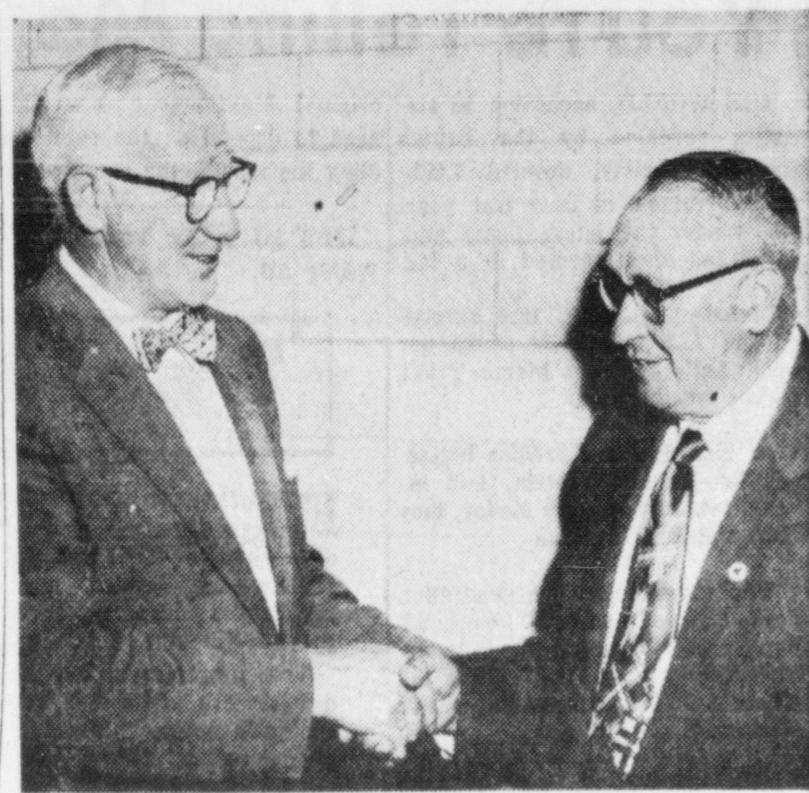

Summer is also ushering in another big problem for many manufacturers. Ten days from now the pay scales of the steel workers will rise. And the price of steel seems sure to rise with it. Whether it will go up $5 a ton or $8, steel users will have to figure that in among the many other factors tending to raise manufacturing costs and to keep the price inflation acute.

Steelmakers report little advance ordering to beat the price rise and guess that means that many steel users are looking for a quiet summer.

But summer brings with her at least one bit of good news for business. A record vacation period is predicted. Transportation, resort, hotel, sporting goods and soft drink industries all look for major gains over last year.

The oil industry, currently plagued by large inventories and over production, looks for a nice increase in gasoline consumption this summer. The tire makers are happy. The makers of man made fibers are happy.

An eyewitness account of the uprising and tragedy in Hungary will be given by Sidney Correll, director of United World Missions at the Sugar Creek Baptist Church on Route 35 at 7:30 p. m. Sunday, the Rev. F. G. Maurer the pastor, has announced.

Correll, who returned recently from a trip around the world, will take as his topic: "The Forgotten." The setting of the drama he will describe is the bridge at Andau on the border of Hungary and Australia.

Correll will illustrate his talk with motion pictures of the refugees fleeing from Russian dominated Hungary across the Austrian border to the free world.

The great thing about the Jolson picture was that the guy (Larson Parks) didn't try to act like Jolson all the time. He had some of his gestures, but most of the illusion was carried by that great Jolson voice."

The whole question of impersonating him is a problem, he concluded.

Both are well-known personalities in their own right. Gene Kelly has been suggested to play manager-partner Lou Clayton to Thomas' Durante.

with less feed per 100 pounds of gain. A recent report on a cattle-feeding test conducted cooperatively by Reynolds Farm Institute and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station shows that cattle gain more under an aluminum roof. Two groups of Brahman and Hereford cross-bred heifers were selected at random, with the same sizes being represented in each group. Eight animals in one group were fed in a black top barn, and sixteen others were fed the same ration in an aluminum-roofed barn. In the three year period of testing, the average yearly gain was 101 lbs. per head under aluminum. In one 140 day feed test period, weight gain was greater by 25 lbs. per head. Test conclusions also noted the minimum maintenance required with aluminum and the excellent condition of the roof after three years.

DAIRY CATTLE

Here's proof on the importance of keeping cows cool — under aluminum! Heat definitely reduces milk production, according to the findings of dairy experts in a midwestern university. Their tests show that milk production decreases nearly 80% as the temperature increased from 50 degrees F. to 105 degrees F. An increase of just 10 degrees F. from 85 degrees to 95 degrees . . . cut production an average of nine pounds, a reduction of more than one-third. That's why heat-reflecting aluminum roofing and siding is so popular with successful dairy farmers — those cooler interiors that aluminum provides in hot weather pays off in important EXTRA pounds of milk.

Electric Output Peak Switches To Summer

Air Conditioners Boost Hot Weather Utility Consumption

BUSINESS MIRROR

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — Summer arrived today for an official visit only to find that in many parts of the nation she had already outworn her welcome several days ago.

The prolonged heat wave spurred business in some lines, such as sales of air conditioners and light apparel. It cut sales in others, such as food and home furnishings.

It brought slowdowns in many production lines and offices, and walkouts in a few overheated, plants.

In some cities a new look was being taken today at the electric power capacity and the industry's flexibility in time of emergency. Record consumption of power taxed the utilities while heat was causing equipment breakdowns.

The big trend toward air conditioning in recent years has tended to switch the utilities peak load problems from the winter to the summer months. Edison Electric Institute reports a big jump in consumption for the nation in the last week, with the biggest increases in those sections hardest hit by the pre-summer heat wave. Power shortages were reported in both Chicago and New York.

Many of the faster growing communities are wondering today how to increase their water facilities. In some places pressures dropped toward the vanishing point under the head start on the general industrial slowdown so widely expected.

Weather should have only part of the blame for this. Weakness in a number of industries is lengthening the shutdown periods scheduled next month. In July a sizable portion of the nation's plants will close down for one to three weeks for mass vacations.

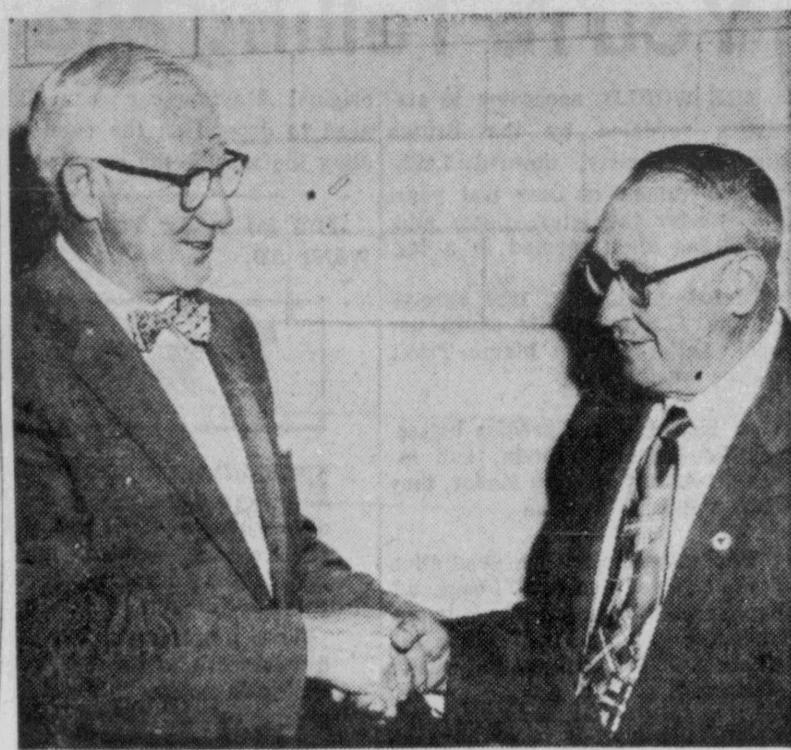

Summer is also ushering in another big problem for many manufacturers. Ten days from now the pay scales of the steel workers will rise. And the price of steel seems sure to rise with it. Whether it will go up $5 a ton or $8, steel users will have to figure that in among the many other factors tending to raise manufacturing costs and to keep the price inflation problem acute.

Steelmakers report little advance ordering to beat the price rise and guess that means that many steel users are looking for a quiet summer.

But summer brings with her at least one bit of good news for business. A record vacation period is predicted. Transportation, resort, hotel, sporting goods and soft drink industries all look for major gains over last year.

The oil industry, currently plagued by large inventories and over production, looks for a nice increase in gasoline consumption this summer. The tire makers are happy. The makers of man made fibers are happy.

That's the problem Jimmy is pondering how that several studios are hot to buy his life story. Several names have been suggested for it, especially Danny Thomas and Frank Sinatra.

Taxpayers Would Welcome Independence Day

While July 4 is Independence Day for America, the day on which we celebrate signing of the immortal Declaration of Independence, there is another day that could be called "Freedom Day" for industry in our country. It is July 6 the day that corporations will begin working for their owners, the stockholders.

Until July 6, on the general average, industry will be working for the federal government, paying taxes for 1957.

Earnings after that date will be divided among state and local governments, then some is to be used for expansion of facilities and the remainder for the millions of individual stockholders who have provided the money to set up and to keep going the nation's industries.

Also there is another "Freedom Day" for individual citizens of America. For nearly all of us, except those we help keep on relief, will be working until some certain date to provide for paying our own income and other taxes for 1957, and trying to have enough left over as we go along to provide the necessities of food, shelter and some of the ordinary comforts of living.

However, even hens don't continue laying eggs unless they are fed. And when their rations are cut the eggs are fewer and less valuable. That is why we should be concerned with the squeeze on profits which grows tighter and tighter as time goes on.

The squeeze is made the tighter by a vicious circle which also dilutes the buying power of dollars in which we measure profits, prices and wages. We call it inflation—which still goes on robbing us of savings.

It is evidenced in the fact that employee compensation, according to the President's Council of Economic Advisors, went up about $86 billion during the past six years, while profits went down by $600 million in the same period.

Meanwhile the bureaucrats continue to find more ways to spend money, while cost of government has moved steadily upward.

Everyone seems to recognize waste in spending, such as using three people where one could do the work, and in countless other ways.

As a part of the present economy drive, it is reported that investigations are to start on the growing number of private cars being owned and operated by the federal government—many of which are of the expensive and luxury type. At least twenty-six Cadillacs—like those of the White House Fleet—are rented for $500 per year, including maintenance. Over sixty other Cadillacs are purchased outright for government use; in addition to a considerable number of Lincolns and Chrysler Imperials, as well as thousands of lower priced motor vehicles. It is estimated that the cost of the annual operation of government-owned luxury cars runs from $6,000 to $9,000 per car year each.

The real cuts need to be made in so-called "welfare measures," federal aid to states and municipalities, also projects that keep the federal government in competition with private business. Well over 25 billions of dollars a year are spent that way.

Even more important than the saving of dollars, it is to stop the further growth of Federal Government in responsibility and power, with a lessening of both for the States and local governments, as well as the people themselves.

The President himself, more than once, has warned us against the growth of federal government in responsibility and power if we are to remain a free people. The American people, including you and me and all the rest, should stop holding out our hands for more and more federal aid, even in what seem to be needy places.

We should remind ourselves that when we shed responsibility on the shoulders of the federal government, we also yield more power to the spending arms that extend from those shoulders.

High-Paid Model Expert on Wolves

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — A young mother here who well may be the world's highest paid model—she earned $35,000 last year—also is a leading authority on wolves—Manhattan wolves.

"I have a lot of trouble with wolves," sighed Lois Collins, a former Denver receptionist.

"I'm seeing an analyst about them now. He tells me I'm too naive about men. But I can't help it if I'm too trusting."

"I can't help liking men. I find them much less difficult to get along with than I do other women."

The blue-eyed, convent-reared blonde came here in 1952 to attend a merchandising school but began to pose for magazine illustrators after she went broke.

"I wouldn't go back home for my pride's sake," she said.

She soon turned to modeling, and found a quick success in the field. Slender and unusually photogenic, her trade measurements—if we must give away trade secrets—are 36-22-33.

Lois gets from $40 an hour for fashion modeling, to $150 an hour for full figure studies for photographic magazines or ads showing her stepping out of a bathtub clad only in a towel.

"A few girls do better than I do in fashion modeling," said Lois, who has been featured in most of the leading magazines. "But no one makes more than I do in the figure field."

She married and divorced a young actor shortly after arriving here. Now she supports a 3-year-old son, Michael, and shares an East Side apartment with her younger brother, who attends Columbia University.

On the subject of wolves, she observed:

"In the business I'm in I have to be very careful. The wolves in Manhattan come in all ages. Some are nicely treacherous—and some are just treacherous."

"First, there are the older wolves—60 to 70 or more. They are usually married millionaires who try to recapture their youth by capturing a model," she said.

"Then there are the perennial playboys—who make a game out of trying to date every new girl who comes to town."

"Then there are the middle-aged wolves on expense accounts who use a girl as if she were a watch charm. They are insecure in themselves, and think being seen with a pretty girl will help them make a big impression."

"What about the poor but honest young wolf?"

"I hope to meet one sometime," said Lois, "but it wouldn't hurt if he had just a little bit of money. What I really want most in life is to marry and have a happy home."

The trouble is that most of the wolves she meets already have happy homes—so happy they can't stand the joy of staying in them at night.

Many Ways To Skin a Cat

By George Sokolsky

Taxation has become an epidemic which is fast reducing the keenest minds and the most active personalities in all countries to frustration and despair.

It is excessive taxation which is driving the middle class into the proletariat and altering the social institutions of all societies.

It is taxation, as a weapon for the distribution of wealth and benefits, which is making more and more people partially dependent upon government for a low standard of life.

When such a horrible disease affects mankind, wise men find means to circumvent the tax laws and the Swiss remedy has become quite popular and is being adopted by many countries—my own list would show that about 27 countries have gone into the business of providing institutions of decedent for those who choose to risk not to pay taxes.

The remedy is simple: convert all your money into cash, open an anonymous account in a bank where you think you will be safest, make deposits in cash regularly, and never pay a tax.

It is done every day. Fred C. Scribner, Jr., assistant secretary of the Treasury, testified recently that $500,000 a week is deposited in large amounts in United States banks for transfer to anonymous accounts in Switzerland. This sum of $500,000 a week represents only deposits made in cash. It is a very low figure because it reflects large amounts and the likelihood is that the more security-conscious folks are depositing small amounts in several banks.

The bank asks no questions. There are no general laws requiring a bank to identify a depositor, particularly if he is using the bank's facilities to transfer some funds out of which the bank makes a quick fee.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Scribner said that all large cash deposits in banks are scrutinized.

"The interest here is not on the part of the main Treasury, as such. It is an interest of the Internal Revenue Department in the sense that they are interested in any large deposits, regardless of who makes them, to see if they lead into any area of profits we haven't tapped, or have not been properly reported."

So, here is quite a situation which some day some citizen will take into the courts, where he will undoubtedly win his case by proving that he paid his income tax, but still prefers legal tender to bank checks.

Perhaps the greatest violation of civil liberties, but a most useful one, was the Al Capone case

In a word, the position of the Treasury is that the deposit of legal tender rather than checks automatically sets up an investigation, which some people beat by depositing their money to a numbered foreign account or a

Cases of Cross-Eyes Usually Are Curable

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Like many diseases, a case of crossed-eyes frequently is inherited.

While you yourself may not be crossed-eyes, you can still pass it on to your child from your parents or some other relation. Perhaps it can be traced to an aunt or an uncle, or even a first cousin. But generally you can trace it to some member of the family.

Naturally, there are several other causes of crossed-eyes. Some occur during delivery of the infant.

Tiny Hemorrhages

Compression of the baby's head in the birth canal can cause tiny hemorrhages in the brain. While such hemorrhages generally are absorbed and are not harmful, they sometimes hamper control of the baby's eye muscles by damaging the brain centers.

Forces delivery also can,

foreign nominee but giving a fictitious name and address in this country.

This colloquy is telling:

"Scribner. There have been several cases where they have not been able to locate immediately persons bearing the names of those who made deposits.

"It perhaps would be fair to say that, perhaps, they have found in some instances that deposits are made under assumed names.

"Rusher (associate counsel). That is to say, when the investigators of Internal Revenue go to find out who has been making large cash deposits to the credit of Swiss numbered accounts, they have found, at least in a number of cases, that they cannot find a person bearing the name of the depositor living at the address given 'he made the deposit is that correct?'

"Scribner. There have been some instances in which our investigators reported that to be the fact: Yes, sir."

There are clearly many ways of skinning a cat.

THE WORLD, according to statistics revealed by the British Brewer's society, downed 7,092,000,000 gallons of beer last year. No wonder the international situation has often seemed in a fog.

Also there is another "Freedom Day" for individual citizens of America. For nearly all of us, except those we help keep on relief, will be working until some certain date to provide for paying our own income and other taxes for 1957, and trying to have enough left over as we go along to provide the necessities of food, shelter and some of the ordinary comforts of living.

However, even hens don't continue laying eggs unless they are fed. And when their rations are cut the eggs are fewer and less valuable. That is why we should be concerned with the squeeze on profits which grows tighter and tighter as time goes on.

The squeeze is made the tighter by a vicious circle which also dilutes the buying power of dollars in which we measure profits, prices and wages. We call it inflation—which still goes on robbing us of savings.

It is evidenced in the fact that employee compensation, according to the President's Council of Economic Advisors went up about $86 billion during the past six years, while profits went down by $600 million in the same period.

Meanwhile the bureaucrats continue to find more ways to spend money, while cost of government has moved steadily upward.

Everyone seems to recognize waste in spending, such as using three people where one could do the work, and in countless other ways.

As a part of the present economy drive, it is reported that investigations are to start on the growing number of private cars being owned and operated by the federal government—many of which are of the expensive and luxury type. At least twenty-six Cadillacs—like those of the White House Fleet—are rented for $500 per year, including maintenance. Over sixty other Cadillacs are purchased outright for government use; in addition to a considerable number of Lincolns and Chrysler Imperials, as well as thousands of lower priced motor vehicles. It is estimated that the cost of the annual operation of government-owned luxury cars runs from $6,000 to $9,000 per car year each.

The real cuts need to be made in so-called "welfare measures," federal aid to states and municipalities, also projects that keep the federal government in competition with private business. Well over 25 billions of dollars a year are spent that way.

Even more important than the saving of dollars, it is to stop the further growth of Federal Government in responsibility and power, with a lessening of both for the States and local governments, as well as the people themselves.

The President himself, more than once, has warned us against the growth of federal government in responsibility and power if we are to remain a free people. The American people, including you and me and all the rest, should stop holding out our hands for more and more federal aid, even in what seem to be needy places.

We should remind ourselves that when we shed responsibility on the shoulders of the federal government, we also yield more power to the spending arms that extend from those shoulders.

Diet and Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Like many diseases, a case of crossed-eyes frequently is inherited.

While you yourself may not be crossed-eyes, you can still pass it on to your child from your parents or some other relation. Perhaps it can be traced to an aunt or an uncle, or even a first cousin. But generally you can trace it to some member of the family.

Naturally, there are several other causes of crossed-eye. Some occur during delivery of the infant.

Tiny Hemorrhages

Compression of the baby's head in the birth canal can cause tiny hemorrhages in the brain. While such hemorrhages generally are absorbed and are not harmful, they sometimes have a major control of the baby's eye muscles by damaging the brain center.

This can result in a crossed-eye. Forceps delivery also can, on foreign nominee but giving a fictitious name and address in this country.

This colloquy is telling:

"Scribner. There have been several cases where they have not been able to locate immediately persons bearing the names of those who made deposits."

"It perhaps would be fair to say that, perhaps, they have found in some instances that deposits are made under assumed names."

"Rusher (assistant to the counsel). That is to say, when the investigators of Internal Revenue go to find out who has been making large cash deposits to the credit of Swiss numbered accounts, they have found, at least in a number of cases, that they cannot find a person bearing the name of the depositor living at the address given when he made the deposit. Is that correct?"

"Scribner. There have been some instances in which our investigators reported that to be the fact: Yes, sir."

There are clearly many ways of skinning a cat.

Cases of Cross-Eyes Usually Are Curable

occasion, result in crossed-eye.

When pressure is applied to the baby's face and head by the instruments, there is a possibility that the eye muscles might be damaged.

Only Cure

The only cure for such cases of crossed-eye is an operation. Cases brought on by other causes respond favorably to orthoptic training.

Nervousness sometimes brings about crossed-eye. When a youngster is tired, overstimulation of the brain's nerve center which controls eye convergence might cross his eyes. When he is relaxed, his eyes are perfectly all right.

It is quite possible, you know, to overuse your eyes. If a child is weak because of an illness or a poor diet, too much reading may be enough to cross his eyes.

Poor vision in one eye, if not corrected by glasses, may result in crossed-eye. Diphtheria and certain other diseases can weaken eye muscles or brain controls which affect the eye movements.

But no matter what the cause, there is one important thing to remember. By surgery, glasses or eye exercises, the vast majority of cross-eyed cases can be corrected.

TAXATION has become an epidemic which is fast reducing the keenest minds and the most active personalities in all countries to frustration and despair.

It is excessive taxation which is driving the middle class into the proletariat and altering the social institutions of all societies.

It is taxation, as a weapon for the distribution of wealth and benefits, which is making more and more people partially dependent upon government for a low standard of life.

When such a horrible disease affects mankind, wise men find means to circumvent the tax laws and the Swiss remedy has become quite popular and is being adopted by many countries—my own list would show that about 27 countries have gone into the business of providing institutions of deceit for those who choose to risk not to pay taxes.

The remedy is simple: convert all your money into cash, open an anonymous account in a bank where you think you will be safest, make deposits in cash regularly, and never pay a tax.

It is done every day. Fred C. Scribner, Jr., assistant secretary of the Treasury, testified recently that $500,000 a week is deposited in large amounts in United States banks for transfer to anonymous accounts in Switzerland. This sum of $500,000 a week represents only deposits made in cash. It is a very low figure because it reflects large amounts and the likelihood is that the more conscientious folks are depositing small amounts in several banks.

The bank asks no questions. There are no general laws requiring a bank to identify a depositor, particularly if he is using the bank's facilities to transfer some funds out of which the bank makes a quick fee.

Asst. Secretary of the Treasury Scribner said that all large cash deposits in banks are scrutinized.

The interest here is not on the part of the main Treasury, as such. It is an interest of the Internal Revenue Department in the sense that they are interested in any large deposits, regardless of who makes them, to see if they lead into any area of profits we haven't tapped, or have not been properly reported. . . .

In a word, the position of the Treasury is that the deposit of legal tender rather than checks automatically sets up an investigation, which some people beat by depositing their money to a numbered foreign account or a

South Korea Set To Match North Korean Arms Buildup

WASHINGTON (P) — South Korean Ambassador You Chan Yang said Thursday he understands the 16 Allied powers have agreed on a program for modernizing weapons in South Korea.

Yang said in an interview that the United Nations Command is expected to notify the Communists of the Western alliance's intentions at a meeting called in Panmunjom Friday.

"I believe the reason for the meeting is to change the armistice agreement in order to let the United Nations Command build up to the strength of Communist forces in North Korea," the ambassador said.

"Certainly that should be done," he added. "We should not repeat the 1950 tragedy which all we'd like to combine by the last of next week, somewhat earlier than usual, observers report.

There will be a good crop, based on present indications, but not a bumper one, although some fields, particularly of bearded wheat, will show high yields.

Generally speaking the bearded wheat is showing better than the smooth wheat this year. In most instances the heads are longer and better filled. However, there is a lot of exceptionally good smooth wheat also.

So far, the Fayette County Agriculture, Stabilization and Conservation Committee has not had a single damage claim for insured wheat. Indications are that, at this late date, none will be presented.

While the wheat crop will be good in this area, the acreage in Fayette County is 5,000 to 8,000 below normal.

Inquiry indicates that the old dumping ground took care of the city's refuse for upward of half a century, inasmuch as the swamp was many feet below the level of the two streets.

Looking over the earth brought up during the excavating work, I found two or three old, hand-blown bottles and a Bahama rum jug some four inches in diameter and a foot tall. They clearly indicated the period when they were consigned to the dump heap.

In all probability the area was formerly a part of what was known as "Buzzard Swamp" along Paint Creek within the city limits, because it was frequented by many buzzards which roosted in the old trees in the swamp.

Right now harvesting of one of the largest acreages of barley planted in Fayette County in recent years is underway. Prices are running around 68 cents a bushel, but many farmers are keeping their barley to feed to livestock rather than take the low market price.

The park, at its height around the turn of the century, was a popular gathering place for young couples, who made the trip to and from it by horse and buggy.

Boating, fishing and bathing were the chief attractions offered at the park, where a 10 cents admission was charged. Sometimes on Sundays during the warm weather, 300 to 400 people would flock to Crabbill's Park for the day.

There was plenty of room for picnicking and space was provided for hitching and caring for horses. Ice cream, lemonade and "pop" were among the things dispensed on the grounds.

This was disclosed when work of excavating for Farm Bureau building foundations got underway.

It was at least 100 years ago when the first dumping was started.

ed in the area, both to fill it up and to dispose of the refuse from the growing town.

In all probability, it was the city's first dumping place. When it was used, practically all of the city was north of Paint Creek and much of the remainder of what is now the city was in woods.

Inquiry indicates that the old dumping ground took care of the city's refuse for upward of half a century, inasmuch as the swamp was many feet below the level of the two streets.

Looking over the earth brought up during the excavating work, I found two or three old, hand-blown bottles and a Bahama rum jug some four inches in diameter and a foot all. They clearly indicated the period when they were consigned to the dump heap.

In all probability the area was formerly a part of what was known as "Buzzard Swamp" along Paint Creek within the city limits, because it was frequented by many buzzards which roosted in the old trees in the swamp.

CRABILL'S PARK
For many years one of the popular summer gathering places for young couples, who made the trip to and from it by horse and buggy.

Boating, fishing and bathing were the chief attractions offered at the park, where a 10 cents admission was charged. Sometimes on Sundays during the warm weather, 300 to 400 people would flock to Crabill's Park for the day.

There was plenty of room for picnicking and space was provided for hitching and caring for horses. Ice cream, lemonade and "pop" were among the things dispensed on the grounds.

The park, at its height around the turn of the century, was a popular gathering place for young couples, who made the trip to and from it by horse and buggy.

Boating, fishing and bathing were the chief attractions offered at the park, where a 10 cents admission was charged. Sometimes on Sundays during the warm weather, 300 to 400 people would flock to Crabill's Park for the day.

This was disclosed when work of excavating for Farn. Bureau building foundations got underway.

It was at least 100 years ago when the first dumping was start-

Sometimes organizations and groups would go to the park for a day of pleasure. On such occasions there was music, as well as the usual diversions of boating, swimming, and fishing, pitching horseshoes, and other entertainment.

Bali games, I am told, also provided entertainment on various occasions.

The pleasure resort drew people from 10 to 15 miles in all directions, and many a weary horse was glad to get back home at the end of such a trip in a single day.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am an average 21-year-old girl who maybe thinks a little too seriously about life. My main thoughts concern the future, and I'm flounderingly trying to gain a solid approach to life, by which I can be strong and a person whom I would admire.

Another of my main thoughts is a quest to find true love. I fell really in love a few years ago and lost him. It seems to have taken something out of me, but it left me stronger than I was before. I have tried to fall in love again, but things just don't work out.

My philosophy is, choose the man, then fall in love. Sounds sensible, doesn't it? Yes, but there's one thing missing.

Someone I have known only a short time found out my secret desire for love, and told me: "To find love you must have love in your heart." I have begun to realize that that is what's missing in my solid approach to life and love.

I don't really love people any more. I try to be a good Christian, but there are selfish motives in everything I do. I want to have love in my heart, and I want to share it. But I honestly don't know where to begin.

DEAR B.G.: Self-understanding does much to correct a great deal that is wrong with most of us, I think. At least it lights up the darkness in which we had been lost before, and encourages us to do what can be done. To put things right.

The fact that you wish to be strong in life indicates that, deep down in your nature, you feel weak, helpless and threatened, as if shorn of all protection by outside sources. As if nobody cares for you at all, not even your parents!

And this conviction, for which there may be some slight foundation—say, of maternal neglect; or of lifelong family favoritism towards a brother or sister—is probably at the root of your whole problem. That is, your problem of thinking too much—worrying, really—and not going out to meet life in an enthusiastic self-forgetful spirit.

Furthermore, your desire to be a person whom you could admire suggests that your real self has been pretty severely slighted by certain powerful influences in your background—authorities who reared you, teachers who bossed you, and the like. Maybe you were often criticized, scolded, overlooked, pushed aside, and compared to others, more admired, in your formative early years; and lectured on how the ideal child should behave, so as to win grownups' approval.

The effect of that sort of thing on a sensitive love-hungry youngster is to make him or her feel unaccountably inferior, apologetic and, finally, defensive and stoic, hardly daring to feel, much less to

Pets Of Today's Children Sound Like Roster Of Zoo

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Quite a few parents around the country are being harassed by such small-fry questions as:

"Mommie, why can't I have a platypus for a pet? . . . Mommie, what is a Kookaburra bird? . . . Daddy, please buy me a wombat. . . . Mommie, when can I go see Kerry Kangaroo?"

A new generation of global-minded children is among us, it seems, with a whole new set of characters to add to the old familiar animal world of Peter Rabbit a' Mickey Mouse. This new animal kingdom has been in roduced to American moppets by a gentle and highly photogenic blonde who is sort of a one-woman United Nations herself.

She is Nola Lu Ford, former actress and radio commentator, present fashion show producer and author. Her new book, "Kerry Kangaroo," seems to have fired the imagination of the kindergarten set, who are fascinated by the strange and lovable fauna of the world Down Under.

Miss Luxford, a native of New Zealand, got on the international merry-go-round at the start of World War II, when she was a radio commentator for NBC.

show, any attachment (or attachment) to anyone, or any desire to be tenderly cherished. The proposition is something like leaving a person out in the cold, until he is frozen stiff—then wondering why he isn't more warmly alive!

Figuratively speaking, your love feelings have been refrigerated a bit, and your self-esteem is pretty ragged, like a flowering plant that's being picked to pieces by persons who ought to know better.

You should be growing naturally, unconsciously, from the center of yourself, warmed and nourished by sympathetic approval from significant sources—thus becoming the personality you were born to be. But, instead, you've been trying to turn yourself into a magnolia, let's say, when nature intended you to be a rose. You've been trying to grow according to a pattern not you—a pattern that has roots in somebody else's feelings about you (feelings that are none too kindly, I gather).

Love is a byproduct of self-respect, an overflow of good feeling about self, a delight in living that spontaneously takes others to heart. To get the pitch, you ought to have two or three good talks with a first-rate psychologist, who will teach you to react from your soul—not with dazed reference to critics' views—in being you.

Washington C. H. has received $16,203 from the gasoline tax.

Rotarians To Tour Agrico Plant after Tuesday Luncheon

Clarence Maddox, branch manager for the American Agricultural Chemical Co., Robinson Rd., will be the speaker on the luncheon program at the Rotary Club meeting here Tuesday.

Maddox will give a resume on improvements and new equipment made in the plant here since it took over what was formerly the Hamm Company, makers of fertilizers.

The speaker will discuss new manufacturing steps, methods and processes.

Following his talk Maddox will conduct a tour of the plant.

Belford Carpenter and Ray Maddox of the June program committee arranged the program which is a part of the local Rotary plan to have vocational talks by members of the club several times each year.

Restrictions Eased On Nonstrategic Goods

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government Thursday eased its restrictions on the shipment of nonstrategic goods to Russia and her European satellites. It added some 200 commodities to the list of things that may be exported there without individual licenses.

The Bureau of Foreign Commerce emphasized, however, that the action "in no way reflects a change in the policy of barring strategic goods to the Soviet bloc, nor in any way affects the complete embargo against shipments to Communist China."

Boat Accident Fatal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Leonard G. Skiver, 59, Sciotoville, died in Grant Hospital here Thursday night of injuries suffered earlier when he fell off his cabin cruiser, moored at the Portsmouth Boat Club dock in the Ohio River.

RECOMMENDED - Ronald L. Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett L. Campbell, 434 Warren Ave., has been recommended by the Navy as a candidate for the U. S. Naval Academy as a midshipman in the class of 1962. He is now stationed at the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., as a dental technician, third class. He is a 1955 graduate of Washington C. H. High School, where he was an above-average student and played basketball and tennis.

THIS FINAL distribution will make a total of $18,480,000 in gas tax funds returned by the state during the past 12 months for county highways; $10,137,200 for township roads, and $19,671,810 for city and village streets.

The grand total of $48,289,010 is $732,050 more than local governments received during the previous fiscal year from the gasoline tax.

From the sales tax local governments have received the $22,020,000 appropriate, by the legislature in 1955 plus an additional $3,610,776.60 provided by a special legislative session one year ago to offset a loss in revenue from the intangible tax.

From the biennium commencing July 1, local governments will receive $24 million a year from the sales tax as a result of the increase granted by the legislature this year. This will mean $2,000,000 a month instead of $1,835,000 in the past two years.

Halliday Supplies Station Wagon for Use in New Movie

It isn't every automobile dealer who gets a call to help out in the filming of a motion picture.

But Carroll Halliday, Washington C. H. Ford and Mercury representative did. He came through.

And a green and white Mercury station wagon from the Halliday showroom will appear in a new 20th Century Fox production, "Young in Love," which is being filmed in the bluegrass section near Lexington, Ky.

The director of the picture wanted a green and white station wagon to harmonize with the Kentuckian background and contacted the Lincoln Mercury division office in Cincinnati. Halliday had the only one in the five-state area serviced by the Cincinnati division.

The car will be driven to Lexington by a representative of the Cincinnati office.

Tribe's Ninth Inning Rally Falls Short

WASHINGTON (P) — Losers in Boston, the Cleveland Indians try to get their Eastern trip into the black ink with a four-game series opening tonight. It's against the Washington Nationals, who have lost twice as many games as they've won so far this season.

Chuck Stobbs, who has lost 11 and won none this season, will face the Tribe's Don Mossi, unbeaten in four starts.

Manager Kerby Farrell plans to use his new rookie catcher, Dick Brown, in at least some of the games here. He got into the game in the last inning as a pinch-hitter with the bases filled and the Tribe trailing 9-6. Rudy Minarcin, the fourth Boston pitcher, uncorked a wild pitch while Brown was batting for Kenny Kuhn, and a run came home.

But Brown struck out. So did Al Smith, to end the game at 9-7 with Cleveland's tying runs on second and third.

The Indians went into the last inning Thursday trailing 9-4. They shelled Ike Delock off the mound with Vic Wertz' double and Rocky Colavito's 10th home run of the season, which Delock capped by walking Maris.

Traffic Summons Served on Boy, 8

MIAMI, Fla. (P) — An 8-year-old boy has received a traffic summons on four charges of driving on a parking lot in a soapbox car powered by a lawnmower motor.

The parents of Wesley W. Toll Jr. said the ticket cited driving without a license, headlights and state license plate, and overloading. Wesley had two playmates riding with him.

The Tolls said Wesley would appear in North Miami Municipal Court today to answer the charges.

The Brooklyn Dodgers found that out again Thursday night. For the second straight night, the Reds clubbed two home runs in the same inning for a victory. The score was 6-1.

Wally Post's grand slam home run was the decisive wallop and it served to boost the Reds into third place in the National League. They passed both Philadelphia and Brooklyn.

Sharing honors with Post was Brooks Lawrence, who pitched his sixth victory. He allowed the Dodgers eight scattered hits, struck out seven and didn't walk a man.

Oddly, Post's homer was hit over the right field screen and he normally sends his long drives into left field.

The Tolls said Wesley would appear in North Miami Municipal Court today to answer the charges.

Cards Snatch League Lead From Braves

Milwaukee Loss, Redbird Victory Change Standing

By FD WILKS

The Associated Press
The St. Louis Cardinals finally have the National League lead in hand.

With a .750 winning percentage over the last month, they've risen all the way from sixth place while the rest of the contenders were playing musical chairs with first division berths.

They were 8½ games off the pace when they started to move. Since then they've won 21 of 28 games.

Murphy Dickson, a 40-year-old right-hander, held Pittsburgh in check Thursday on seven hits before tiring and giving way to relief help in the eighth while the Cards built a 7-4 victory.

New York's Giants opened the door for the Cardinals, ending Milwaukee's seven-day stay in first place with a 12-inning, 4-3 victory for the Braves' fourth defeat in the last five games.

Cincinnati regained third place, 1½ games back, by beating Brooklyn 6-1. Philadelphia defeated the Chicago Cubs 7-2.

In the American League, New York's second-place Yankees look to be on the threshold of first place, running their winning streak to seven games with a 3-1 victory over Detroit while Baltimore trimmed Chicago's first place lead to 1½ games with a 4-1 decision. The White Sox open a four-game series in New York to-night.

Boston defeated Cleveland 9-7 and Washington beat Kansas City 9-4.

The Cardinals, swinging for nine hits and getting two RBIs from Al Dark, scored three in the third against ex-mate Luis Arroyo on singles by Dark and Ken Boyer and a double play. They scored the two that clinched it on a walk and two errors. Stan Musial doubled to extend his hitting streak to 20 games.

Johnny Artonelli, Denny O'Connell and Bobby Thomson, all ex-Braves, each drove in a run as the sixth-place Giants, who have won seven of their last nine, took the series 2-1. "ay Crone won the opener. Antonelli's sacrifice fly beat Taylor Phillips in the rubber game.

Southpaw Harvey Haddix won his fifth for the Phils, driving in two runs. He struck out seven, walked only one. Gran Hammer hit a bases-loaded triple in a clinching four-run sixth inning.

The Yankees, who had won only two of eight from Detroit before the three-game series, handed Frank Lary his eighth defeat, scoring the clincher in the sixth on Bill Skowron's double and Gil McDougald's single. Bob Turley won his third.

The Senators came from behind with five runs in the seventh against losing reliever Maury McDermott. Art Schult hit a two-run pinch double and Pete Runnels had a two-run single in the rally. Pete Ramos won his fifth.

Librarians Told Circulation Hurt By Book Sales

CHICAGO (AP)—Nearly a quarter of a billion books with paper covers were sold in the United States last year.

Dan Lacy, managing director of the American Book Publishers Council, told a national meeting of librarians Thursday this is one reason the demand for fiction in libraries has fallen off.

He likened the trend to paper cover books to the advent of frozen foods in the food industry. Many people prefer paying the higher costs of buying such books to the inconvenience of procuring and returning books at a library, he said.

Athletics Play Here on Sunday

Heart of This Loop Ending First Round

The Washington C. H. Athletics will play the last game of their last game on the Heart of Ohio League schedule with Lancaster at the park on Oakland Ave. here next Sunday.

The game was scheduled originally to be played on Aug. 11, the last one of the season for the two teams. It was moved up to next Sunday by mutual agreement after both teams had played all seven games of the first half of the schedule and had no postponed games to be played Sunday, which had been left open for playoffs.

Two other teams in the loop have played all seven first half games. They are Reynoldsburg and Chillicothe, but there was no indication today whether either had booked a Sunday game.

The other four teams in the league—Locohourne Air Force Base, Columbus, Zanesville and Grove City—have played only six of their seven first round games. Presumably, they will play off their postponed games Sunday, but there has been no definite announcement that they will be.

THE ATHLETICS edged Lancaster, 4 to 3, when the two teams met at Lancaster last Sunday; thus, this will be the second Sunday in a row for the two teams to play.

Both Hildreth, manager of the Athletics, gave no indication of any changes planned in the lineup for Sunday's game.

Grove City, unbeaten in six games of the first half of the schedule, is still at the top of the H-O League standing, but the Athletics with a 5-2 record are second.

Here is the way they stand at the end of the first round of games, with four postponements to be played:

Cards Snatch League Lead From Braves

Milwaukee Loss, Redbird Victory Change Standing

By FD WILKS

The Associated Press

The St. Louis Cardinals finally have the National League lead in hand.

With a .750 winning percentage over the last month, they've risen all the way from sixth place while the rest of the contenders were playing musical chairs with first division berths.

They were 8½ games off the pace when they started to move. Since then they've won 21 of 28 games.

Murry Dickson, a 40-year-old right-hander, held Pittsburgh in check Thursday on seven hits before tiring and giving way to relief help in the eighth while the Cards built a 7-4 victory.

New York's Giants opened the door for the Cardinals, ending Milwaukee's seven-day stay in first place with a 12-inning, 4-3 victory for the Braves' fourth defeat in the last five games.

Cincinnati regained third place, 1½ games back, by belting Brooklyn 6-1. Philadelphia defeated the Cuban 7-2.

In the American League, New York's second-place Yankees look to be on the threshold of first place, running their winning streak to seven games with a 3-1 victory over Detroit while Baltimore trimmed Chicago's first place lead to 1½ games with a 4-1 decision. The White Sox open a four-game series in New York to-night.

Boston defeated Cleveland 9-7 and Washington beat Kansas City 9-4.

The Cardinals, swinging for nine hits and getting two RBIs from Al Dark, scored three in the third against ex-mate Luis Arroyo on singles by Dark and Ken Boyer and a double play. They scored the two that clinched it in the fifth without a hit — on a walk and two errors. Stan Musial doubled to extend his hitting streak to 20 games.

Southpaw Harvey Haddix won his fifth for the Phils, driving in two runs. He struck out seven, walked only one. Gran Hammer hit a bases-loaded triple in a clutching four-run sixth inning.

The Yankees, who had won only two of eight from Detroit before the three-game series, handed Frank Lary his eighth defeat, scoring the clincher in the sixth on Bill Skowron's double and Gil McDougald's single. Bob Turley won his third.

The Senators came from behind with five runs in the seventh against losing reliever Maury McDermott. Art Schult hit a two-run pinch double and Pete Runnels had a two-run single in the rally. Pete Ramos won his fifth.

Youth Crushed Between Two Railroad Cars

Robert A. Lucas,
Bloomingburg, Hurt
At Cudahy Plant

A Bloomingburg youth who was pinned between two railroad cars while working at the Cudahy Packing Co. plant, 532 Dayton Ave., Thursday afternoon was in "good" condition at Memorial Hospital Friday.

Being treated for a fractured pelvis is Ronald Allen Lucas, 18, son of Isaac Lucas of Danville Rd., near Bloomingburg.

He was injured as he attempted to slip between two railroad cars on a Cudahy siding. An engine bumped the end of one of the cars and he was pinned. The youth's father, who also is a Cudahy employee, accompanied him to the hospital in an ambulance.

MEANWHILE, two victims of Wednesday accidents were also described in "good" condition at the hospital.

Dickie Brannon, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Brannon of Sabina, suffered a fractured pelvis when he fell from a pickup truck on the Luther Cockerill farm, Route 70 south, and was run over by an empty wagon hitched to the truck.

Gene Lewis Byrd, 17, son of Mrs. Eloise K. Byrd of Sabina is recovering from a double fracture of the right leg sustained when his motor bike crashed into a tree in Sabina.

Fined $10 and costs and sentenced to five days in jail after pleading guilty to driving under revocation was Vernon Keith Bennett, 32, of 203 Bell Ave. His license was revoked last summer when he was convicted of driving while intoxicated.

Billy N. Parks, 21, of Grove City, was fined $25 and costs after pleading guilty to using improper license plates.

Fined $5 and costs, the fines suspended, after they pleaded guilty to speeding were: Mary Conaway, 32, Good Hope; William Robinson, 47, of 112 W. Paint St.; Russell Beatty, 42, near Washington C. H.; and James Evans, 19, of 1004 Delaware St.

Burke Reported Not Interested In Governorship

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Plain Dealer said today that former U.S. Sen. Thomas A. Burke has told friends he does not intend to seek the Democratic nomination for governor of Ohio next year.

The newspaper added that Burke probably would enter the Senate race if Republican Sen. John W. Bricker decides not to try for another term.

The Plain Dealer said Burke's high regard for Gov. C. William O'Neill "is a substantial part of the reason he does not want to run against the Republcan incumbent."

At the sine die adjournment of the Legislature in Columbus this week Democratic lawmakers pounced on a report that the former senator was "acting like a candidate" for governor and a small boom for his candidacy got under way spontaneously, the newspaper said.

2 Motorcyclists Hurt in Collision

Parked Car Hit On Clinton Ave.

Two Washington C. H. men were slightly injured about 10:30 p. m. Thursday when the motorcycle they were riding collided with a parked car near the intersection of Clinton and Oakland Aves.

Treated in the emergency room at Memorial Hospital for bruises and contusions of the head and neck were Charles Erwin Cox, 317 Forest St., and Richard Haines, 1217 Gregg St.

Cox told city police he was driving the motorcycle east on Clinton Ave. toward the Clinton - Oakwood Ave. traffic light, and thought the parked car was merely waiting for the light to change.

Approaching the light as it changed, Cox said he kept moving because he thought the vehicle also would start moving. Instead, the motorcycle hit the rear bumper of the car and both riders were thrown to the pavement.

The motorcycle bounced back and landed on its side. The auto was undamaged.
